ABOUT THE ARTIST

From the cuisine & music of Southern Africa to the flora & fauna of the Caribbean, the myriad of native and immigrant communities Swazi-born Brian grew around imparted him with a deep bag of cultural knowledge and callbacks to pull from when designing collages, calligrams, and posters.

By taking a psychological approach to incorporating audience's passions, he aims to ensure people not only feel seen, but even even catered to and curated for.

Through this design-thinking approach, he is also able to incorporate his interests, which include sports, graphic novels, and percussive-heavy musical genres into compositions that make the most out of any space given.
